Ships carry a manual that help remind the seamen of the proper use of signaling flags. Most flags have several meanings depending on circumstances and what other flags are displayed with it. Besides being a letter of the alphabet, a flag can communicate a message, such as a red and white signal flag means H, but also "I have a pilot on board".

other ships, of which the fishing fleet are probably the most numerous. Differences in most statistical groupings occurred where groups at the level of 'tankers', 'bulkers', etc, needed to be sub-divided. However, a classification of this nature should start at the top by covering all marine structures.
